Provider training in partnership with IPA and NAMI

Course Description:
NAMI Provider aims to educate physicians, nurses, medical staff, mental health professionals, direct service workers and other allied professionals on the lived experiences of people living with mental illness navigating care and recovery. This 4-hour seminar training utilizes evidence-based curriculum and storytelling from a teacher panel consisting of a mental health provider, a family member of someone living with a mental illness, and a person in recovery. The mental health provider is also either a family member of someone with a mental illness or and person in recovery as well.
